Blairstmore Sinclair Block Alberta

An action for $2,000,000 damages has been filed by the attorneys for the owners of the steamer Mont Blanc against the Norwegian Belgian sailing steamer Imo. These two steamers collided in Halifax harbor on December 6. The explosion, which wrecked part of the city, followed.

The visit of R. B. Morden, grand high priest of the Grand Encampment of Alberta, to Crows' Nest Encampment No. 8, scheduled for Tuesday next, has again been postponed, owing to an urgent call from Grassy Lake, requiring Mr. Morden's presence there on that night, and he will visit Blairstmore on the following Tuesday instead.

School Board Meets

The first regular meeting of the new 1918 School Board was held this afternoon in the Blairstmore town offices, when W. A. Beebe was elected chairman and E. Wright secretary-treasurer and assessor for the ensuing year.

The minutes of previous meeting were on motion adopted as read, and applications from the teachers for increase in salaries were considered. On motion the salaries of all members of the teaching staff, as well as the janitor, were increased by $5 per month, effective January to June, inclusive.

A communication from the secretary of Coleman School District was read, suggesting that this was an opportune time for each board of this district to have one or more representatives to form a delegation to go to Edmonton and lay before the Department of Education the matter of collecting an educational tax from all who are not on the revised assessment roll. The secretary was instructed to write the Coleman board, advising them that the Blairstmore board were in hearty sympathy with such a movement and would be pleased to co-operate with the Coleman board in this matter.

Invalid Soldiers Welfare League At Frank

The first social evening under the auspices of this newly formed league was held in the Frank Military Hospital last evening, and was a completely successful beginning to the work of the organization. A large number of invalids attended in the invitations and the rotunda and dining room of the Hospital soon became the scene of thoroughly enjoyable social intercourse, in fact as informal gathering was of a purely informal character, everyone enjoying themselves in the way they liked best. Cards, games and billiards formed a part, while songs were given by Mrs. Moore, Miss Williamson and Mr. Patterson. Corp. Thorpe proved himself an able elocutionist by his well rendered recitation of Robert Service's "The Shooting of Dan McGraw." The ladies of the organization, as well as the ladies and gentlemen for their kind contributions to the pleasure of the evening. The introduction of a "Buffet Bar" proved an interesting and successful novelty and was in charge of Mrs. Forster, Brockwell and Christie, who can be congratulated upon the excellence of their management. The Matron, Nursing-Sister Olderaker looked after the creature comforts of hosts and guests with her usual thoroughness. The officers of the League indebted to Mrs. Forster for the daintily worked badges which they wore upon this occasion for the first time. The League is in hopes that this was only the first of many happy evenings to come.

As a result of the recent order requiring that all cases of undue delay in unloading foodstuffs from railway cars be reported to the food controller, reports have gone in of 31 cars which have been detained over the time limit. The food controller has notified the consignees that the cars must be unloaded promptly or the contents will be ordered to be sold.

Cowley Happenings

Mrs. P. Fortier is ailing somewhat at present.

Little Jimmie Dooner has had a touch of pneumonia.

J. Howe, of Maycroft, was a recent visitor to Cowley.

Mrs. P. McEwen is visiting in the country at present.

Cecil Elton is in Calgary now taking a "tractor" course.

Miss L. Dampier's sister, of Pincher Creek, paid her a visit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smyth's baby has been laid up with bronchitis for several days.

Colin Buchanan is making a visit to his brother Roy, who recently moved to Larkin, B.C.

Mr. Hargrove and Mr. Warren Fulton were business visitors to Pincher Creek on Thursday last.

On Saturday the Women's Institute will ship another supply of provisions to the Ogden Home at Calgary.

Harvey Welsh, of the Union Bank staff, is temporarily filling the teller's cage in the Pincher Creek branch.

J. Kemmis accompanied Mrs. Kemmis and their daughter to Sand Point, Idaho. Mr. Kemmis is returning in a few days.

J. Kemmis and daughter Margaret motored to Pincher Creek on Friday night, Mr. Kemmis attending the Chapter while Margaret took in the ball.

Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan and daughter, Mrs. Van Alstyne, motored to Pincher Creek on Friday night, the ladies attending the ball, while Mr. MacMillan attended the Chapter.

Friday night is the date of the annual dance of the United Farmers of Alberta, to be held in the town hall. We expect fine weather and a good crowd and a splendid time.

There will be an "At Home" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tustian on the 23rd. We understand that the object is to raise funds towards the support of the Presbyterian church.

According to local gossip, several tractors will be purchased by the immediate farmers here this spring, to handle greater acreage and thus help to win the war and incidentally themselves a little.

On Wednesday, in the village school house, an "At Home" will be given and collection taken for the unfortunate people who were massacred at the hands of the Turks a short time ago.

The spelling match held in the village school on Friday night last, was a decided success. On this occasion Miss Gladys Bauer proved herself to be the best speller. Another spelling match is being held Thursday night of this week.

On Tuesday night the officers of Pincher Creek Lodge No. 5, I.O.O.F., motored to Cowley for a joint installation with the local lodge. We understand that the available stock of oysters were sacrificed on this occasion and that Fred Tustian succeeded in cooking them to a turn. A splendid time was had.

On Monday night a lecture by Dr. Lillie, of Blairstmore, on the care of the teeth, and another lecture by Mrs. Littleton, of town, on first-aid to the injured, also demonstrations by Mrs. Littleton were given in the village school house. These lectures were given free for all who wished to avail themselves of this splendid information, so well and freely given. Great credit is due them for imparting so clearly the details of their separate subjects.

Germans Re-write Mail of Alsace Lorraine Soldiers

Germany's domination of the inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine has now become so uncertain that they are no longer allowed to receive letters from their families. The families serving on the various German fronts. This curious state of affairs has just been discovered by the finds made in the establishment of the new system of government letters transmission for the two provinces.

Germany's precautions are presumably dictated by fear that the soldiers in her armies from Alsace-Lorraine will communicate with their families military or other useful information, and that this turn might be communicated by the letters to the two provinces to the French across the border.

All letters from German soldiers of Alsace or Lorraine origin must now pass through a newly created office at Strasbourg. The government employees make extracts of the letters, and these extracts that the families of the soldiers in Alsace-Lorraine are usually received. The entire system is self-explained in the following "extract" that has just come into the hands of the French military authorities:

"Strasburg, Oct. 12, 1917: As recent measures prohibit the sending into the occupied portions of Upper Alsace and Lorraine letters coming from soldiers, it is requested that you communicating you below the analysis of a letter from your husband, Monsieur Alphonse A., whose address we have in our records.

"I hope you are always in good health as I am, but recently I have only heard from you rarely, although I write you every two weeks.

"I hope you are well at home this year. Here with us we have had nothing like it for the past 30 years. It will give us plenty to eat for a long time to come. Apples and fruits are both in most unusual quantities. I am eating enormous quantities of both, but naturally not to the point which it makes me sick as do others here who verily eat too much.

"I hope that in your prayers you will not forget us, but although we get you to us that we meet again we can without fear look each other in the eyes to the depth of our souls."

"Alphonse."

New Ruling

Parcels for Interned Officers Must Bear Red Cross Coupons

According to information received by the post office authorities a new ruling as regards interwarner parcels will come into effect on Jan. 1, 1918. After that date coupons issued by the prisoners of war department, Canadian Red Cross society, London, will have to be attached to parcels sent to officers who are interned in Germany or Austria-Hungary.

The right to send food parcels remains with the Red Cross, but may be transferred by the latter, or to the prisoner of war himself, to any other person. Application for the necessary coupons should be made as early as possible to the Prisoners of War department, Canadian Red Cross society, London, England.

The coupons are to be used on food parcels only and no coupons are issued for amounts under ten pounds.

Regulations do not affect in any way the present rules governing transmission of parcels to prisoners of war other than officers.

Reducing Expenses

The war has so increased the cost of living, the housewife must make her money go further.

By using Red Rose Tea, which chiefly consists of strong, rich Assam tea, she can keep her tea bills down. The rich Assam strength requires less tea in the pot—and there's only one tea with the rich Red Rose flavor!

Coal Mine Investigation

Mine Disasters Believed to Be Due to Geological Bumps

George S. Rice, the well-known eastern mining expert, called in by the provincial government to investigate the "bumps" in the Crow's Nest coal mining field, held responsible for disasters, including one last spring, when there was a score of miners killed, in his report.

The most important of his findings is that he recommends a permanent commission be formed to investigate the various geological conditions in the mines of the province, the inspectors of mines and others, having on their membership a geologist, a mining engineer, a chemist, and an experienced mine operator.

Mr. Rice says the "bumps" are believed to have been caused by subsidence of the roof in certain areas under rigid rocks, leaving a great amount of space for the coal to settle.

When one of these gives way it means the hammer-like blows of hundreds of tons of rock striking on the immediate roof of the coal strata overlaying the seam, which imparts the blow downward, breaking the timber, causing extensive falls in the mine, and sending rock tremors through the strata.

German Attacks

Behind the Lines
The Lesson Written in the Italian Drive

But even if a supreme disaster has been escaped in Italy it is essential that no allied statesman and no allied patriot should mistake the lesson taught by it. By far the most important of all the enemies of Italy is the German. The Anarchists, the Socialists, the Clericals, the Farmers, the Peasants, the visionaries, the thinkers and the man without thought—all are seized upon by her. The Utopians of all sorts of these are to be converted to other forms, and are the line through which Germany operates for the destruction of her nation and the dissolution of the national unity of the countries who are fighting her.

Allied armies have now come to the support of Italy. We may hope that Venice is safe and the crest of the Adriatic is safe. But we must remember that these forces which induced the Italian disaster are operating in France, in England and here at home. In the United States we should always be at the ready to confront another crash, another collapse like that which has taken place in Russia in totality and in Italy in part. Germany has lost her way to us, it is a matter of question. She cannot defeat the armies of her enemies. She can win only by corrupting the people behind the armies of her enemies. Russian and Italian events should serve the greater end; they should find evidences of the way and the balance of power.

But if they do serve this end they may yet prove a beginning of defeat rather than the high water marks of the latest and most dangerous of all German campaigns. —New York Tribune.

A Man of Action

The Supreme Man for the Supreme Job

German Militarism Already Defeated

Ringed Against It

The Germans have lost Northern Italy is a shabby political success. It will inflate pride and inspire the lusty singing of "Deutschland über Alles," but it will not fill German胸 with the same enthusiasm as did the German factories with the raw material for which they are starving. German militarism is not merely discredited; it is already defeated by economic forces. The Kaiser, Germany has brought military victory with financial ruin. The kaiser has ridden his triumph through the Balkans and Poland and Russia. What does that avail him while an unbreakable wall of steel bars his way to the heart of France, to the British Isles and to the United States who hold the ocean roads? With every month of war Germany's ruin must become more assured. Militarism is already out at elbows. When the German people realize that supreme joy, send them, Mr. Wilson, send them—William Hard in the New Republic.

Persistent Asthma. A most distressing characteristic of this debilitating disease is the persistence with which recurring attacks come to stay even strength and leave the sufferer in state of almost complete prostration.

130,000 men; 2,000,000 horses; 130,000 men; 2,000,000 horses; 130,000 men; 2,000,000 tons of coal and other fuel; 113,000,000 tons of food and other materials.

Our own losses have been only 3,500 men, or, what is about the same, in lives through the action of the enemy.

The great expeditionary force numbered 160,000 men. The expeditionary force was over 3,000,000, the creation of which was probably the greatest feat of military organization in the world.

Slav Masses Disillusioned

Peasants Tired and Dazzled by Perpetual Strife of Parties

The Bolsheviks think that they are gaining the upper hand among the Slavs. The Slavs and the Germans are as yet far as mere votes and resolutions are concerned. It is true if means that the great masses of the people sympathize with the Bolsheviks and are prepared to support them actively. The prevailing feeling is one of apathy, weariness, disillusionment. In the workers' committees the Bolsheviks are strong, but most of the workers have ceased to attend meetings.

In the villages the peasants ignore all elections and express disgust for all political parties. Hence the peasants have disbanded their committees and have gone back to the old system of having simply an elderly man as their spokesman.

The director of the Peasant's Bank, the director of the Peasant's Bank, declares in obvious good faith that his village has decided not to pay taxes because there is no government.

Here is the real key to the present situation. The masses of the people have lost faith in the new government. They do not care as yet that they desire the restoration of the old regime. They are half-depressed and disappointed.

They are still gullible and they have lost faith in extravagant promises. They cannot understand the perpetual strife of parties. Uneasiness and猜疑 are increasing.

They are tired and depressed. They are accustomed to authority, and they see no reason to believe that the new earth, and they see only increasing disorder.—Harold Williams, in the London Chronicle.

Restoring

Returned Soldiers

With commendable enterprise and foresight, the Canadian Government is on an extensive work in restoring her disabled soldiers. At the close of the year there were 115 institutions (of which the Military Hospitals Commission conducted 71) caring for convalescent soldiers. In these, there were 11,385 beds, in addition to 2,500 beds used in clearing depots. There were 10,000 men under treatment, 3,000 men enrolled for vocational training and 869 men being taught new trades. These numbers are constantly increasing and the Military Hospitals Commission is expanding its activities to meet the growing needs adequately.

French Control of Metal

France is taking steps to ensure the economic development and control of her mineral and metal industries after the war. A company has been formed, entitled the Societe Minerale et Metal, with a capital of $2,000,000 for the purpose of fostering and protecting the metal industries of the country. The company, which is representative of existing interests, is not a profit-making enterprise so much as an organization which has for its object the improvement and extension of the methods of distribution, treatment, and marketing of the metals produced in France and her colonies.

The Editor Arose

A preacher at the conclusion of one of his sermons said: "Let all in the house who are paying their debts stand up." Immediately the entire congregation, with but one exception, stood to their feet. The preacher seated them and said: "Now, every man not paying his debts stand up." The exception noted, a careworn, hungry-looking individual clothed in his last summer's suit, slowly assumed a preposterous position.

"How is it, my friend?" asked the minister, "that you are the only man not able or disposed to meet his obligations?"

"I am an editor and run a newspaper," he meekly answered, "and the brethren here who stood up are my subscribers; and—"

"Let us pray!" exclaimed the preacher.

Third Largest Dam In World in Quebec

The most important water conservation work thus far undertaken in Canada is that undertaken by the Quebec Government and now nearing completion at La Louche on the St. Maurice river. It will store up the waters of the St. Maurice for the benefit of its many water powers and will double the low-water power.

This work had been projected for many years as the regulation of the river is of the greatest value to the important developed water powers at La Tuque, Grand'mere and Shawinigan Falls, but no construction work was undertaken. After full investigation of the project, both from the engineering and financial view-point, the Quebec Creeks Commission let the contract for construction in the summer of 1915.

The work has progressed steadily since in spite of the great difficulties in transportation. It is now 80 per cent completed and will cost about $1,500,000. When finished, it will create a reservoir of 160 million cubic feet, forming the third largest reservoir in the world, being exceeded only by Aswan reservoir on the Nile and the Gatun lake on the Panama canal. From the owners of the power sites already developed, the Commission will receive a revenue of upwards of $120,000.

Between the reservoir and the mouth of the St. Maurice there are 17 power sites with heads of from 10 feet to 150 feet. The aggregate descent at these sites is 800 feet, but the dam will increase in developing the various sites will increase this total head to 900 feet. Under present conditions, these sites have a total capacity of approximately 350,000 horsepower, but, it is estimated that some 60,000 horsepower will be available when the flow is regulated from the reservoir. At Shawinigan, Grand'mere and La Tuque alone, the three sites at present utilized on the St. Maurice, the potentiality will be realized from an aggregate of about 100,000 theoretical horsepower to over 40,000 horsepower.

A Sob From The U.S.

My Tuesdays are meathes,
My Wednesdays are wheates,
I am getting more ralesas each day;
My home it is heales,
My bed it is sheeles,
They are ail went to the Y. M. C. A.
The bar-rooms are treates,
My coffee is sweetes,
Each day I get prouer and wiser;
My stockings are feates,
My trousers are weakes,
My G'dd, how I hate the Kaiser!

The English Language

Jid you ever stop to think over the peculiarities of the English language? Here's a little rhyme from the Penny Pictorial on plural and singular that is quite amusing—

We'll begin with a box, and the plural is boxes.

But the plural of ox should be oxen, not oxes.

Then one fowl is a goose, but two are called geese.

Yet the plural of mouse should never be mice.

You may find a lone mouse or a whole lot of mice.

But the plural of house is houses, not hice.

If the plural of man is always called men,

Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?

The cow in the plural may be cows or kine.

But a bow, if repeated, is never called bine;

And if I speak of a foot and you show me your feet,

And give you a boot, would a pair be called a beet?

If one is a tooth, and a whole set are teeth—

Why shouldn't the plural of booth be called booth?

If the singular's this and the plural is these,

Should the plural of kiss be nicknamed Kerses?

Then one may be that, and three would be those,

Yet then in the plural would never be hose;

And the plural of catate is not case,

We speak of a brother and also of brethren;

But though we say mother, we never say methren.

Then inaudibly pronounces arche, his and him,

But imagine the feminine: she, shie and shien.

So in English, I think, you all will agree,

Is the most wonderful language you ever did see.

The Ten Demands

1. Don't lie. It wastes my time and yours. I am sure to catch you in the end, and that is the wrong end.

2. Watch your work, not the clock. A day's work's make a long day short, and a short day's work makes my day long.

3. Give me more than I expect and I will give you more than you expect. I expect you to increase your pay if you increase my profits.

4. You owe so much to yourself that you cannot afford to owe to anybody else. Keep out of debt, or keep out of my shop.

5. Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, never see temptation when they meet it.

6. Mind your own business, and in time you will have a business of your own to mind.

7. Don't do anything here which hurts your self-esteem. An employer who is willing to steal for me is willing to steal from me.

8. It is time of my business what you do not want to do. If dissipation affects you the next day, but do half as much as you did yesterday, you'll last half as long as you hoped.

9. Don't tell me what I'd like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet to my vanity, but one for my dollars.

10. Don't kick if I kick. If you're worth while correcting, you're worth while keeping. I don't waste time correcting weeds out of rotten apples.

It pays to advertise, alright.

Last week we advertised a picked-up button, and since then we have received a piece of white embroidery from one of the remote corners of this province, asking if it would match the button. Pretty soon we will be able to advertise a whole suit or start a ladies' wear department store.

Concrete Ships To Increase Tonnage

Ship building has received a tremendous impetus during the past year. The determination of Germany to wage unrestricted submarine warfare has made the question of providing ships to make good the wastage one of momentous importance. Months ago it became evident that a shortage of plates for steel ships and of suitable wood for wooden ships was well within the range of possibility. Substitutes were, therefore, sought. One of the first to be considered was ferro concrete. This material has been in use in barges, launch-craft, even, to some extent, in larger vessels for a number of years. Consequently, it was not without hope that attention was turned to the construction of concrete boats to take care of the traffic on the great lakes, and, as far as can be told, free for coast and ocean freighting, boats at present plying thereon.

A ship-building firm in Montreal has commenced the construction of such vessels. One of these is a 125-foot single screw steamer, having structural steel and keel with a hull of reinforced concrete. The shell is from three to five inches thick. It is said to have a displacement of 1,000 tons, a speed of 10 knots, and a cargo capacity of 1,000 tons. One of the outstanding advantages of this method of construction is the greater strength that may be obtained in building. Thus, a ship of 1,000 tons in weight in building early in September and the boat was launched November 14th.

All Hopkins left on Monday night for Calgary, where he reported for military service.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeGroote, of Blairmore, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen.

Mrs. Fred Wolstenholme returned on Thursday from Calgary, where she had been visiting friends.

Skating is good on the Connolly lake, and large numbers of local artists are availing themselves of it.

Master W. Williams returned to Calgary by Sunday night's train, where he re-enters upon his studies.

Mr. John Hutton was Louis d'Orlans from Ottawa last week that his son George has been visiting since the November 19th.

Bellevue's new picture theatre opens on Saturday night. Bill Cole is to be congratulated on the establishment of such a modernly equipped playhouse.

Don't forget the Burns' Anniversary concert and dance to be held in the Workers' hall on Friday night next, January the 25th. Proceeds will be given to the Arthur Amos family.

Local and General

Giving evidence before Mr. Justice Coderre at Montreal, in one of the exemption appeal courts, Dr. J. E. Dube stated that he was appalled at the amount of illness and disease prevailing among men of military age. He attributed the trouble chiefly to cigarettes.

At this season of the year the readers of this family journal should remember that the poor man has been endeavoring during the year to pass to collect and impart to them all the items of news in the community that would interest them. During that time he was worried with printer's ink and multitudes of other accounts to settle for, and would ask that you show your appreciation of his efforts to please you by remitting the amount of your subscription at once, that he may start the New Year with that vigor which is so necessary in those days of "high financing."

The trouble with many men—professionals, executives, professional men, rich men—is that they get swelled up with the title, position, or financial power they hold that they get entirely out of touch with the common, every-day human being, and worse than that, they put across or try to, things that they would be ashamed of if they hadn't lost the viewpoint of the every-day human. The well-meaning person will often find his greatest difficulty that of keeping in touch with the thoughts and needs of the general public. The person who makes no effort, or fails to understand the wishes of the people, merits no support, and may well deserve condemnation.—H. H. River Times.

The big Italian steamer Milesco, 11,477 tons gross register, was sunk during the early part of December by a German submarine while the ship was in Mediterranean waters.

It is understood no lives were lost.

A Ford Car Takes the Place of all These Things

WHEN you own a Ford you can do away with many articles that are a source of continuous expense to the man who still drives a horse. For instance, not only your driving-horse and buggy, but the single harness, blankets, whips, currycombs, brushes, horse-shoes, pitch-forks, feed-bins, etc.

In their place you have a speedy, dependable, dignified, roomy Ford Car—complete in itself. It is vastly superior to the narrow, cramped buggy that travels so slowly. And when a Ford is standing idle it does not eat three meals a day, and it requires no "looking after."

A Ford will save you time, trouble, and money. It is the utility car for the busy farmer and his family.
